Chris Galippo Might Need Back Surgery

From Scott Wolf's blog:

Linebacker Chris Galippo's back hurts and doctors are trying to determine the severity.

"He has some serious issues," Pete Carroll said. "We'll find out how extensive it is. It got serious for him being able to play this week or next week."

Carroll did not rule out surgery.

UPDATED: Galippo said he will see Dr. Robert Watkins tomorrow for MRI results and will apply for a medical redshirt if necessary.

Tough luck for Chris. Hopefully he'll be back in full force next year.
